A successful energy transition requires closer collaboration between all the players involved.

Support for government action and climate sectorial initiatives and disclosures

TotalEnergies supports the pledges made by nations worldwide to combat global warming as part of the Paris Agreement and publishes its positions on its corporate website<sup>1</sup>.

At COP28, we supported the goal of tripling renewable energy capacity and doubling energy efficiency measures by 2030. We also joined the Oil and Gas Decarbonization Charter (OGDC) (see p. 40).

In Europe, TotalEnergies supports the “Fit-for-55” package and specifically some of its key components, such as the broader use of carbon pricing, the largescale expansion of renewable energies, deployment of infrastructure and the development of fuels and renewables for the transportation industry. Our responses to the European Commission's public consultations on climate are public and may be viewed online.

In France, TotalEnergies, along with 60 other major companies, signed the Entreprises Pour l'Environnement (EpE) association's statement calling for an acceleration of the ecological transition, ahead of COP28.
